Ward, 51, had been scheduled to die at 7 p.m. Monday at the Arkansas State Penitentiary in Little Rock. But lawyers for Ward asked the U.S. Supreme Court to halt the execution and the justices granted his request, clearing the way for him to be put to death later Monday night. Ward's attorneys said his execution should be halted because of Arkansas's refusal to pay for a neurological test ordered by his lawyers. Ward was convicted in 1997 of killing four people in 1993,
