the song has surfaced, and it's a who's who of animated characters. The video for Tommy Lives is coming to you courtesy of Topatoco, the same company behind cartoons like Bojack Horseman and the upcoming April Fool's Day live-action movie starring Tim Heidecker and Eric Wareheim. It's pretty much a cross-section of what you might expect to find in the opening credits of the cartoon world. A regular appearance from Bojack Horseman stands out, but the big name here is Paul Giamatti as the mad scientist Dr. What's-His-Name. Bill Hader, Seth Rogen, Keegan-Michael Key and Christina Applegate also lend their voices to the animated depiction of the lyrics. The video, which Topatoco says was a labor of love, was made by Josh Moss, who used real world locations and props to create a movie-like world for viewers. The song, of course, is still inspired by Joel's personal experiences, and it gives him the chance to share what was going on in his life at the time. Joel hasn't played Tommy at many of his concerts, but he told The Guardian that he sees it as a part of his legacy: If you go back to the beginning of my career, I didn't know how to play the guitar. It was my piano playing that got me into the game. When I see Tommy, I'm a new beginning, I'm a rebirth. I learned how to play the guitar and I don't want the guy that I was to follow that guy. He also says he was pretty nervous playing it at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame induction. Watch the whole interview at The Guardian to see
